

TRAVELWEEKLY

5 things to do in Paros

New hotels are putting the Greek island of Paros on the map, finds Alice Barnes-Brown

5. Stay at the Andronis Minois

White like the most dazzling Paros marble, Andronis Minois – set to open next month – will be the island’s latest new hotel opening and the first foray here for Greek hotelier Andronis.

The boutique outpost features 44 Mediterranean-inspired suites (some with private pools) and overlooks peaceful Parasporos beach. For a change from the yellow sands, swap two legs for four and explore the island’s interior on one of the hotel’s horse riding tours.

andronis.com

